

GRAND CANYON UNIVERSITY'S
Canyon Center for Character Education Presents:

Fostering Thriving Schools and Students Summit Series Session 4

Join the Canyon Center for Character Education (CCCE) and a team of experienced speakers to engage in learning experiences related to character education. Collaborate, network, learn and leave with an action plan for implementing or elevating character education in your school community.

In our March sessions, attendees will be taught strategies to make this work meaningful across classrooms and school communities. Through networking, feedback and discussion, attendees can enhance their action plans for making character education a reality.

Friday, March 28 and Saturday, March 29

Registration Fees

$100 per ticket

Note: Must bring a team of two or more individuals.

A select number of scholarships will be offered to cover registration costs. If you're interested, inquire at CharacterEducation@gcu.edu.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What do I need to bring?

Your team! The individuals you bring are up to your school's preference and may include the administration team, leadership team, team leaders, those involved in the school's character implementation or other educators at your school. You should also bring your school's mission and vision statements.

Can individuals attend, or does it have to be a team?

It has to be a school team, which may consist of only two or more individuals.

Who should attend?

School leaders should attend with their leadership teams and/or educators interested in character education.

Do we have to attend every session?

Attendees are strongly encouraged to attend all four summits on all dates. Content at each summit is sequential and builds upon the last session. Videos and booklets are available for content missed.

Will this be beneficial to my school?

Research shows that implementing character education can improve academics, enhance attendance, decrease discipline occurrences and improve teacher satisfaction.¹ Please refer to The Real Impact of Character Education for more information.

What will I receive?

Your team will receive professional development hours, networking and planning time and attendance certificates. Additional materials may also be provided.
